A Leading Farm Machinery Manufacturer Builds an External Development Team with Netsmartz to Streamline Product Development with Unmatched Efficiency and Seamless Integration

Discover how we helped the client augment their software development team to build a powerful software solution that delivers a better customer experience to their customers.

About the Client

Our client is a North American and APAC-based farm machinery manufacturing firm established in 1974. Over the years, they have made a name for themselves in the manufacturing industry as they continue to deliver customer delight and drive success.

The Need

The client reached out to us as they were looking to build a dedicated team of pre-vetted software developers. They needed developers to build a domain-specific ERP product while delivering agility and expertise in the entire development process.

Our Solution

Our team had an in-depth discussion with the client to gain a clear understanding of their expectations. After the discussion, we ensured that the client hired the best developers who produced reliable and high-quality agri-based manufacturing software.

Tech Stack

Dedicated Development Team

We built a dedicated team consisting of a project manager, a business analyst, .NET developers, Android & iOS developers, designers, and quality assurance experts. These experts helped the client meet their business requirements.
Effective Resource Allocation

Based on the client's needs, we helped them find the best resource to work with. Our senior Netsmartz resources proficient in .NET, Android, & iOS development handled the pre-vetting and allocation of the resources as per the project's demand.

Software Development

Once the dedicated team was formed and resources were allocated, our dedicated product development team ensured the deliverable requirements were met. Our developers helped the client build robust ERP software that exceeded their expectations.
